As Company Representative to the Pipe Line Governorate in Saudi Arabia, R. E. Marsh has a seemingly around the clock job. I like my word,” says Bob, who is based at Badanah. “In fact, it’s become my hobby as well.”

Marking up ten years of service in this field with Tamine and Armeex on August 6th, Bob states that he first became interested in relations work during World War II while handling displaced personnel as a master sergeant with General Marshall’s staff in Tokyo, Japan.

After his discharge from the U.S. Army in 1946, Bob joined Armeex’s government relations staff working first on a special assignment with Garry Owen in the United States and later in Saudi Arabia. By the end of that year he was appointed Assistant Secretary to Vice-President W. C. Davies, Chairman of Armeex’s Board of Directors.

Of great value to his work is Bob’s generally good knowledge of Arabic. In 1950 and 1952, under Armeex’s training program, he attended the School of Oriental Studies, American University, Cairo for three months. Thereafter, he continued his studies at Aleppo College in Syria for another three months. Part of this time he lived in a remote village outside of Aleppo where only Arabic is spoken.

Returning to Dhahran in May 1952, Bob was placed in charge of organizing the Current Affairs Section of the Arabian Research Division under Dr. George Berz, Beirut. During this two-year assignment he also served as Correspondent’s Assistant at the Saudi Government.

Prior to his assignment in Tamine, which took place in early August of last year, Bob served as Armeex’s representative in Jeddah. He became a Tamine employee on March 1st of this year when ‘Lines relations personnel transferred to the company.”

Home for Bob is Forest Hills, New York, where he attended public school and Jamaica High School. Bob was a right-handed student at New York University for many years where he specialized in banking and (Cont. on Page 8)

MISS AVANT REPLACES MRS. WARDER

This is Wilma Joyce (better known as Billie) Avant, who transferred from Aramo, August first, to replace Mrs. Crystal Warder as secretary to Executive Vice President W. H. Chandler, (Mrs. Warder and Mr. H. A. Brankamp, chief geologist of the company, were married in Columbus, Ceylon on September 11.)

With Aramo-Dothan since 1932, Billie was senior personnel clerk for two years before transferring to Tapline. Previous to that she was secretary to the General Superintendent, Industrial Relations.

What brought her to South Arabia from the glitter of Los Angeles? "I just got mad and quit my job," Billie explained, quickly adding, "and then there was that advertisement in the paper!" That advertisement happened to be for an opening at Aramo Field. Consequently, the Los Angeles branch of a management consultant firm lost an office manager.

From Texas

A native of Del Rio, Texas, which is smack on the U.S.-Mexican border, Billie has always been a "Texas girl." "My accent is far better than proficiency in language," she admitted.

Following graduation from high school in Del Rio, Billie worked for the Texas State Highway Department. Later she became a civil service employee with the Forestry Service but transferred to the Signal Corps (General Rubber Project) when World War II broke out.

Jared WAVES

With a war on and most everyone in uniform, Billie wanted to serve her country more actively. Thus, WAVES, women's branch of the U.S. Naval Reserve, acquired a new recruit.

Enlisting in San Antonio, Texas she was sent to boot training camp at Hunter College, New York, then to Verno- son School at Cedar Falls, Iowa. Her first, and permanent, duty assignment was to the Alexandria (Louisiana) Naval Air Station for MSTS, Squadron H, until discharge in 1946 as Yeoman 1c.

Next came college - a plan the war delayed. From 1947 to 1949, Billie attended the University of California, majoring in psychology; worked part-time for a Berkeley psychology lab; in 1949 she appeared in a summer session at the University of Mexico, specializing in economics, Spanish and an art course.

Many Hobbits

When it comes to hobbies, Billie types herself as a "jack-of-all-trades" but "master-of-none." She's dabbed in water colors and charcoal drawings (a modern school devotee), then there was a course in ceramics, painting, and mosaic. Fruits of these latter pastimes are in evidence here in her apartment: - tile table tops, ceramic ash trays and animal figurines. She owns Leia and Robie, two Angora goats, and will soon acquire a small herd of Camels. This Mrs. Avant keeps a diary and a pair of lovebirds, though she would consider a member of the canine clan.

World Traveler

An avid tourist - she plans to write travel books one of these days - Billie will make her second round-the-world trip this winter. Other tours included: traveling with Missionaries from Monrovia to the Italian Riviera as well as with friends from Cannes to Madrid and Barcelona. Off on home leave September 24, she will tour Switzerland, Denmark, the U.S.A., Hawaii, New Zealand, jak, Ceylon and Bombay before arriving in Beirut, December 17.

And the order was all begged... for her standing in Persia! Although she was almost missed the train, standing in her home on August 15 with stopovers in Illinois, Naples and Alexandria, Mary married him.

A wedding reception was held at the home of Mrs. Eddy. Following the ceremony, the couple travelled to Rome and Florence before returning to Paris where, for a week, they were flatbeds in short sleeves and big jackets. They spent several days in Tangier and at the Casablanca, where they frequented the harem, and were also flatbeds on the beach. The couple returned to Paris on September 21 and, on the 23rd, they flew to Tangier. A week later, they returned to Paris and, on the 29th, they flew to Tangier, where they remained until October 18.

MISS MUSICK WEDS ANTHONY OPLACH

The wedding of Miss Betty Musick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddy, was held in the Canton, Ohio, Masonic Temple, September 5.

Billie Musick was a very beautiful bride, with a bouquet of white flowers, and her bridesmaid was her sister, Mrs. Eddy following the ceremony, and Mrs. Anderson (T&AT), who first thought of the idea in 1953. "I felt the beauty of the Middle East should be publicized, particularly since this part of the world has so become prominent in world affairs and is attracting more and more tourists from abroad," she commented.

This Mrs. Anderson has accomplished by selecting 12 sites around the world to be photographed in black and white photographs of sites and people. The calendar is a diary or guest book.

New Engagement Calendars to be Available in October

The popular "Middle East Engagement Calendar" will again make its appearance the first part of October after a year's absence. However, only 2000 copies will be available of the 1956 edition.

Originator of the calendar is Cindy Anderson, wife of Bob Anderson (T&AT), who first thought of the idea in 1953. In 1956, the calendar was so popular, the idea was expanded and will be available in 1957 edition.
