THOUSANDS IN CAIRO SEE TAPLINE EXHIBIT

Tagline was an active participant in the First Arab League Petroleum Congress and Exhibition, which opened in Cairo on April 16. The Congress, first of its kind in the Middle East, closed on April 23, but the exhibition is scheduled to continue through May 10.

The Congress was attended by an estimated 400 representatives of Arab League states, Gulf Arab countries, petroleum and oil transport companies, and other organizations engaged in oil affairs in Arab countries. After an inaugural plenary session, delegates and observers met in committee meetings to discuss exploration and production, refining and transportation, and economic and legal problems relating to the oil industry in the Middle East.

Two representatives from Tapline presented papers at the Congress — Mr. R. R. Barnett, Assistant Chief Engineer — Pipelines, discussed the "Auxiliary Pumping Units," while Mr. F. M. Maasry, Head of Construction Engineering, reviewed the "Control of Corrosion on the Trans-Arabian Pipe Line."

The Tapline exhibit, along with that of Arameo, was housed in a large pavilion in the center of the Gezira Fair Grounds and was visited by virtually everyone who entered the Fair area. The Tapline show included seven panels of photo murals: and section of pump were also on display, as well as models of the Salim Terminal, a main pumping unit, an auxiliary pumping unit and a construction spread. President Nasser was an interested visitor to the exhibit on April 23.

A 30-minute color film, "Kilometer 1213: The Story of the Trans-Arabian Pipe Line," was shown five times daily in the pavilion's theatre, and was viewed by more than 25,000 visitors. Thousands of copies of a new brochure, also entitled "Kilometer 1213," which presents a detailed account of Tapline's operations today, were made available to visitors to the pavilion.

Mr. E. Y. Aradah was in charge of the exhibit floor and reception and was assisted by Mr. Hammoud Nazzel, shift foreman from Turaif. Messrs. Bassell, El Youssef and Maasry also worked with the reception group.

Attending the Congress in addition to Mr. Barnett and Mr. Maasry were Messrs. W. A. Campbell, H. H. Matz, D. S. Dohan, S. A. Al-Arid, J. Breidi and M. El Youssef. Also in Cairo during part of the period of the Congress and Exhibition were President John Noble, Executive Vice President W. R. Chandler, Mr. H. X. Smith and Miss Eugenia Koltsch.

At the close of the Exhibition, the Tapline display will be returned to Bartol, where it will be viewable to the public. Plans and dates will be announced later. The film will be shown to all employees and their families, and will be available to schoolteachers and private groups throughout the Levant and Saudi Arabia.

TURAIIF TO HAVE SWIMMING POOL

Ground was broken at Turaif, April 16, for the construction by the company of the first swimming pool on the Tapline system.

The pool is slated for completion in time for use this summer. The pool proper will be 25 feet wide and 80 feet long, with a graduated water depth from 3 feet to 9 feet 6 inches. The walkway and coping around the pool will be present natural tile, with the walkway sections and coping finished with ceramic tile. The color scheme of the installation is based on shades of turquoise.

OIL OPERATIONS HAS NEW HOURS Effective at 12:01 a.m. Monday, April 3, Tappline clocks in Saudi Arabia and Jordon are on 10-hour daylight saving time (Greenwich Mean Time plus four hours). The time change will enable personnel to get to work in the cooler hours of the morning and complete the workday of approximately warmest part. Use of daylight saving time this summer will be on a trial basis. It will be observed until 12:01 a.m. Friday, September 4 — at which time the stations will revert to standard time (GMT plus two hours).

The trophy dinner was held Friday evening, April 3, at the station's community center. Golf enthusiasts turned out again five days later for a new and different type competition — a "BELL-La/POR" pigeon in which any number is permissible to return to the starting point. The winner was the first and only one to return to the starting point. The winner of the tournament was presented with a trophy and a check for $250.

On the second day of Id al-Fitr, April 8, HH Amir ‘Abd Allah Abu ‘Abd Allah the Second, Amir of the Northern Frontiers, hosted a traditional Saudi breakfast of lamb hash for the employees of Turaif.

Later, the Saudis in the ‘Abd area celebrated Id by donning the Arab in the presence of the Amir. Many employees of the station attended the holiday festivities.

With trade-to-order weather on the second day of Id al-Fitr holidays, April 8, some Tottenham from Rassamah together with ten Governorate officials organized a two-day picnic at a wat, located about 50 kilometers from Turaif. Those tests, borrowed from the Saudi National Guard, were used by the group for camping.

Group singing and Arab dance were enjoyed upon arrival at the picnic site. Then, to round off the evening, there was a fancy dinner. The undistinguished rast and viger, the group received the羡慕ing and surprising compliments. Short excursions and other activities followed, such as golf for dueks and other birds. Those who stayed in camp prepared their boards with rimp-running dancees; others sat around a printed lunch. Moses H. T. Jen-

Just how does Mrs. Tapliner at the pump stations put in her time is a question that the folks back home, or even the head of her household, might ask themselves.

Once the household chores are out of the way and the youngsters sent off to school, Mrs. Tapliner on the Line has no beauty shop where she can "get the works" while exchanging the latest news with her sister of the desert. Limitless on a Beirut jaunt, her shopping expeditions are limited to the store or sometimes the nearby village tug.

What does she do with her time? Come along with Badarah reporter Dora Saber and the Periscope photographer on a surprise visit to the homes of Station Superintendent J. R. Terry, Garage Foreman E. R. Robertson and Doctors A. Ghannam and F. A. Elia. (Photos by Naur)

In her cozy kitchen, Mrs. F. A. Elia consults her cookbook while preparing a cake as a treat for her husband and their sons, Art and Elie.

With young sons James and Glen off to kindergarten classes, Mrs. James R. Terry takes time out to feed the family's pet canary. Another member of the Terry's menage — Napoleon, by name — was reported any day from their former residence at Qaisumah.
