English Teacher Hussein Hammoud instructs Suleiman Muhammad, Mukammad Amidi, Awdeh and three at Badanah 56 and 11, at Rafha and three at Badanah 26 and seven, at Qaisumah 14 trimesters a year. The Fall trimester extends from the first Saturday in September to the last Wednesday in November. The Winter trimester is from the first Saturday in December to the last Wednesday in March while the Spring trimester begins on the first Saturday in April, ending on the last Wednesday in June. No classes are offered in July and August.

Related Instruction classes were started at all four pump stations last Feb. 6 to replace the Development Schools.

The major difference between the Development Schools and the new Related Instruction Classes is that student-employees are released from their regular work schedules under the latter system to attend classes. Employees who have personal needs to improve their English may still join RIC on a voluntary basis after working hours.

Employees eligible to attend RIC are those who have need for English and arithmetic on their jobs. They are selected by their respective supervisors.

Introduction of the RIC system marked the first time that arithmetic was taught on an organized basis at all pump stations. New textbooks and supply materials were added to the curriculum.

The RIC teaching staff normally comprises two full-time teachers at Turaif and one each at Badanah, Rafha and Qaisumah. Qualified part-time teachers are also recruited at the four locations.

The Related Instruction Classes are given on the basis of three trimesters a year. The Fall trimester extends from the first Saturday in September to the last Wednesday in November. Our sympathy is expressed to R. L. Amsden on the death of his father, Mr. Amsden.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Boquist and Mrs. A. G. Lampman gave dinner parties for Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Amsden prior to their departure on long vacation. Mrs. Amsden and daughter Carolin departed a week earlier than Mr. Amsden in order to enroll Carolin in school in England. They will be reunited with Mrs. R. E. Robertson and daughter Miriam in London. The girls will be attending the same school, Bradeney St. Peters, Bromyard, Herefordshire, England.

Mrs. M. M. Nasser (the grandmother of Mrs. R. L. Crosthwait) honored Mrs. Georgia Farah with a "Babushka" Sept. 11. Three games were played and the winners were: Mrs. R. L. Crosthwait, Mrs. R. E. H. Boquist. One of the prizes was given the correct definition of a word, as taken from the dictionary, and the other two were given only the word itself. The answers had to be fabricated—definitions. They were all given correctly, except for one story, but not quite enough to fool Mrs. Farah, who was not in the habit of asking ten words correct. Mrs. Farah was much impressed by the girl's ability and the house servants served delicious refreshments instead of cakes, assortment of cookies and coffee.
